WITNESS:
THE HONOURABLE
V. ELIZABETH DOWDESWELL
LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR OF OUR PROVINCE OF ONTARIO
GIVEN at Toronto, Ontario, on March 15, 2018.

BY COMMAND
TRACY MACCHARLES
Minister of Government and Consumer Services

12:00 P.M.

This being the first day of the Third Session of the Forty-First Parliament convoked by Proclamation of the Lieutenant Governor for the dispatch of business, and the Members of the Legislative Assembly having assembled:

Her Honour the Lieutenant Governor entered the Legislative Chamber and, having taken her seat on the Throne, was pleased to open the Session by reading the following gracious speech:

Mr. Speaker, Honourable Members, ladies and gentlemen, people of Ontario:

As the representative of Her Majesty the Queen, it is my honour to open the third Session of the 41st Parliament by delivering the Speech from the Throne.

I begin by acknowledging that we are gathered on the traditional territory of many Indigenous peoples, whose history on this land dates back millennia. We are filled with respect for how, with their partnership, Ontario and all of its prosperity was built. We also recognize that for generations, this wealth was not shared. Indigenous peoples have suffered under the harsh legacy of colonialism. We honour the role Indigenous peoples will continue to play as we push ahead to build and rebuild those partnerships here in Ontario.

Ontario’s Greatest Strength

Ontario’s story is the story of its people.

From the Indigenous peoples who were the first to live on this land;

To the descendants of the French and British settlers who sought new horizons;

And the generations of newcomers who worked their way here from around the world, seeking acceptance and opportunity;

Ontario’s people are its greatest strength.

They always have been.

It is their talent and skills, their foresight and compassion, that have built this province into the place we are proud to call home.
Inspired by our past, we continue to aim higher.
Joining together, we are compelled to do more.
We see this spirit, this impulse to care for each other, alive in our communities every day.
We see it in the way people responded to the recent unprecedented flooding in Ottawa, and then again in Brantford and southwestern Ontario, filling sandbags to protect their neighbours’ homes.
We see it in the way people volunteered at the Invictus Games last fall, coming out in large numbers to support the recovery of wounded warriors from Ontario, Canada, and around the world through spirited competition.
And we see it in the way we have welcomed more than 22,000 Syrian refugees to communities in every corner of the province. From Windsor to Thunder Bay to Cornwall, we are supporting them as they start over in a new country, at new jobs and in new schools.
Time and time again, we come together.
We care for our families, our neighbours and our province.
We see the big picture.

When Ontario became a member of the Organisation internationale de la Francophonie, we committed to help advance education, gender equity and sustainable development across the French-speaking world.
Ontario is a special place, but there is no denying our province also faces challenges.
Even with a relatively strong and growing economy; even with unemployment at its lowest point in nearly two decades; and even with high school graduation rates at their highest ever...
For many of our friends and neighbours, life is getting harder.
Our world is changing in ways we’ve never seen before and at speeds that make it feel hard to keep up.
The cost of living is rising, and at the same time, stable, long-term jobs — jobs that pay a decent wage — are proving harder to find.
Part-time and precarious work is becoming more common...
And as these pressures mount, they bear down on families where it matters most.
People are struggling to take care of themselves, and their loved ones.

A Time for Care

Government hears from people every day who are carrying a great burden.
They share their stories in phone calls and letters and in person at town halls.
Today’s changing economy and tomorrow’s uncertainty are hard realities that affect their lives and their dreams.

In Peterborough, a man who has been a minimum wage earner for much of his life now, wrote to say that he doesn’t want anyone else to have to choose between paying a bill and buying groceries, or to experience the feeling of inward shame and failure for having to use a food bank.

A mother who lives in Thunder Bay, where she works as a teacher, spoke about her eldest daughter, who has complex special needs. Their family is calling on government to improve access to children’s services, so their daughter can continue to live close to home.
A man in Toronto explained how his family is relying on his wife’s income as a personal support worker, because he is also acting as a full-time caregiver to his mother at home — she has late-stage Alzheimer’s. And they need support.

These are familiar stories.

They are the realities that so many people are facing.

And so, as places around the world consider how to handle these same new realities, Ontario’s answer is clear.

We are doing more.

We are not pulling back.

We are taking bold steps, guided by a commitment to care.

That is our responsibility.

The Foundations of Care

Care is all around us. In the way a father walks his child to school. In the way a daughter holds her mother’s hand in the doctor’s office. In the way a teacher sings the alphabet. In the way a nurse shows compassion for a fearful patient. Care is who we are, and it is what we do.

When government uses its resources to support caregivers and make it easier for people to care for themselves and each other, it provides for everyone what individuals would struggle to do alone: provide the best care for our children, the best care for our seniors, and the best care for the people we know who are struggling with mental and physical illness.

We all know someone who is in need of better care.

We know the stress and anxiety it causes that person, and their family.

Government stands behind them.

We do not accept that people should fend for themselves, and see if they can make it on their own. That would not be fair, not when there are things we can do to support each other.

As the changing economy widens the gaps in our society, your government has a plan for care and opportunity.

And it builds on a solid foundation that has already been laid.

When you elected your government four years ago, you gave it a mandate to improve people’s retirement security, so that they could rely on a predictable source of income after a lifetime of hard work.

Your government fought for Ontario’s hard-working men and women, leading the way for an enhanced Canada Pension Plan.

The improved CPP will pay out more in benefits to millions of retirees across the country, providing that extra level of security and support for workers.

As well, for too long, professionally trained caregivers in Ontario were undervalued.

These kind, compassionate and skilled individuals devote their whole lives to caring for others.

To them, providing care is more than a job. It is a calling.
Personal support workers and early childhood educators are the people who provide essential care for our growing children and our aging parents.

They are mostly women, many are new to Canada, and the care they provide is essential.

Your government raised their wages.

These targeted solutions are making a meaningful difference in a changing world.

But that was only the beginning.

Since the last Session of this Parliament began, more people are getting the support they need to care for their families.

It begins at birth.

No child should have to go without the medicine they need. Now they don’t have to.

As of January 1st in Ontario, prescription drugs are absolutely free for every person under the age of 25.

Already, with OHIP+, more than one million young people in Ontario have had their medical prescriptions filled at no cost to their families.

For those young families with children, access to child care is also critically important.

For mothers in particular, it means they can go back to work when they choose.

Earlier this month, when we celebrated International Women’s Day, we were reminded again that there is a long way to go to achieve gender equity.

Only when we eliminate those barriers to child care will we get there.

Thus far, your government has taken its first steps to make child care more accessible.

The waitlist fees for child care have been eliminated, and a plan to help 100,000 more families access spots in child care is well underway.

Subsidies are available for 60 per cent of all those new spaces, because they need to be an affordable choice for families.

When children in Ontario turn four, they now have access to full-day kindergarten, which provides early, high-quality education to four and five-year-olds and huge savings for their families — giving them a great start.

But as Ontario’s youngest and brightest grew up, too many of them were hitting a wall after graduation, unable to pursue their dreams because the cost of postsecondary school was out of reach.

Ontario’s education system is among the best in the world.

We are already home to 44 publicly funded colleges and universities.

And we are moving ahead with creating the first French-language university in Ontario.

It wasn’t fair that students were struggling to afford this higher education.

Beginning this school year, college and university tuition is free for hundreds of thousands of students who were struggling to pay for it.

Students from families who earn up to $90,000 are eligible for free tuition. Students from families who earn more than $90,000 may also receive free tuition depending on their circumstances. Those from families who make up to $175,000 are also eligible for generous aid.
Today, more than 225,000 future graduates are working towards their degrees and diplomas without worrying about the cost of tuition — including almost 13,500 single moms.

The number of Indigenous students receiving OSAP has increased by 34 per cent.

In Ontario’s workforce, 1.1 million men and women are earning minimum wage.

Until recently, that meant $11.40 an hour. It wasn’t enough. It wasn’t providing families with the support they needed to care for each other.

Your government boosted the minimum wage to $14 an hour.

Next January, it increases again to $15 an hour.

This is a long-awaited raise for those 1.1 million people, and it will ensure a safer, brighter future for their families.

Finally, seniors built this province into what it is today. They deserve the best care possible so they can live at home or in their community for as long as possible.

Your government has committed to building 5,000 new beds over the next four years as part of a 10-year plan to create more than 30,000 new beds in the long-term care sector.

A portion of these new beds will serve specific cultural needs, including Indigenous populations.

By 2022, residents in long-term care homes will also have access to 15 million more hours of care from nurses, personal support workers, and therapeutic care workers every year.

This will help to ensure seniors have the care they need, and their loved ones have peace of mind.

These investments will have ongoing benefits.

They are making a difference not just now, but for years and decades to come.

The same is true of the government’s actions on climate change.

These are fights that our children and grandchildren can’t afford for us to lose.

Ontario eliminated coal-fired power, making our air cleaner and lowering our rates of childhood asthma.

But you cannot be serious about lowering emissions and fighting climate change without a price on carbon pollution.

We joined with Quebec and California in North America’s largest carbon market, because this system helps us achieve our ambitious climate change goals, at the lowest cost to people and to businesses.

And every dollar raised goes to making our province more green with public transit and bike lanes, and helping families and businesses to lower their energy bills and become more energy efficient.

Already, Ontario’s carbon market is funding energy-saving renovations at 98 hospitals, as well as at many college and university campuses, schools and in social housing units across Ontario.

As pollution has fallen in Ontario, our economy has grown.

Taken together, all of these actions have helped to lay a solid foundation of care and opportunity in Ontario.

However, your government recognizes it is still not enough.
The Courage to Care
The pressures Ontario families are facing are varied, and they are mounting.
This is having a real impact on their lives and on their ability to care for loved ones.
Government cannot turn its back.
There is so much more to do.
That is why, after delivering a balanced Budget this year, your government has made a deliberate choice to make more investments in the care and the services that the people of this province rely on.
As a result, the 2018 Budget will show a modest deficit next year of less than one per cent of our GDP, and outline a path back to a balanced budget.
Families today are struggling, and by doing more to help them with the costs of care, government can relieve some of the pressure and worry they are feeling.
It is the right thing to do in support of a fairer way forward.
Investments in care and opportunity will better enable people to care for their loved ones, and to get ahead in all aspects of their lives.
When we care for each other, we can change lives.
So government is doing what it can, by investing in the people who make our province strong.
In the 2018 Budget, you will see major investments in the services you need: health care, home care, mental health and addictions, and child care.
First, your government will make significant investments in the operation of our hospitals.
This will reduce the wait times people experience when they need care.
There will be major investments in home care, to provide more services for people aging at home and provide financial relief for families caring for aging loved ones.
The next Budget will also prioritize the growing need for mental health and addictions care in Ontario...
Expanding access to mental health care and helping to ensure people can get the support they need in our schools and our communities.
The cost of child care, which has long been a stumbling block for growing families, will also be addressed in the Budget.
At the same time, government programs that are already making it easier for you to care for your loved ones, and help them to succeed, will be expanded.
OHIP+, the pharmacare program that is providing free medications for children and youth, will be expanded to include other parts of the population.
More people without a drug or dental benefits plan will have access to more affordable prescription drugs and dental care.
And the free tuition program that is already making postsecondary school more affordable for those from modest backgrounds will grow.
More students will be able to attend college and university, tuition-free.
Middle-class families will not have to shoulder onerous debt to give their children the opportunities every student in Ontario deserves.

Furthermore, investments will be made to train more apprentices, including in new, emerging fields.

Opportunities in Ontario will grow.

The burdens of poverty will ease.

Budget 2018 will lighten the load people are carrying today.

It will help to reduce the financial strain that is holding them back.

That healthier, more caring Ontario will be, without question, a stronger, more prosperous Ontario.

The Benefits of Putting Care First

Your government’s plan for care and opportunity is the right way forward for Ontario’s people, and Ontario’s economy, because the well-being of both are intrinsically linked.

When more people have access to the prescription drugs and mental health supports they need to be well, they can fully participate in the community.

When more sons and daughters who are caring for aging parents at home have professional support and financial relief, they can go to work every day, with more energy and confidence — and save for their own future.

When more parents have access to affordable child care, they can make the choice to return to work.

When more students can attain a higher education, they can push the boundaries of our knowledge and develop new ways of doing things in medicine, technology and construction.

Our potential in Ontario is boundless, but it is not assured.

Our potential must be supported and embraced.

With new investments in health care, home care, mental health and child care,...in our young people’s learning from preschool to postsecondary...more of that potential will be unlocked.

This is the age of hyper-globalization. Ontario has to fight for good jobs and growth.

It is a fight that hinges on Ontario’s people being at their best.

People are, unquestionably, our number one resource.

They are the reason Ontario is punching above its weight in the economy of the future: artificial intelligence, clean tech, life sciences, and information and communications technologies.

Our people are the innovators behind cutting-edge developments in agri-food and mining and forestry.

They are driving the future of manufacturing and they are leading the way in financial services.

Our people are the reason businesses look to Ontario when they are growing and expanding.

To that end, your government will continue to advocate for Ontario abroad — standing up for our businesses and workers, including our autoworkers, steelworkers and workers in agriculture as part of our U.S. engagement strategy, and partnering with businesses at home and overseas.

Recognizing that some parts of the province have particular struggles and challenges with achieving economic growth in this period of transition, the Budget will support regional investments and job funds.
Across Ontario, the government’s record-breaking investments in our infrastructure will continue. When we build new roads and bridges, new transit systems, new hospitals and schools, those projects generate benefits and opportunity for workers and the entire economy.

All of this together is how, even amid trade uncertainty and the disruptive nature of rapid technological change, Ontario’s economy will continue to grow and prosper.

That economic growth is how, in turn, government will invest in care and create more opportunities.

The 2018 Budget appreciates this full circle, and will leverage it.

With the results of these investments, the Budget will present a clear path to return to balance — without sacrificing the services that are the essential foundation of a fairer, better Ontario.

Building a Place of Fairness, Caring and Opportunity

Since your government was elected in 2014, Ontario’s achievements have set us apart as a place of fairness, caring and opportunity.

Inspired by the people who every day are caring for their family, being active in their community and are building this province into the fair and prosperous place we call home, your government has chosen to do more.

With bold ideas and a balanced plan, Ontario has led the way forward in Canada.

An enhanced Canada Pension Plan, pharmacare for children and youth, free postsecondary tuition, fairness at work, and our joint carbon market are significant achievements.

They are opening new opportunities daily and providing much-needed security in a world of growing turmoil.

But in Ontario, we always aim higher.

With the 2018 Budget, Ontario will build on these investments in people and the care they need.

We will continue to lead the way on climate change.

We will not push the most pressing issue we face onto the next generation.

We will come together and we will do more for one another.

The challenges we face today may seem daunting, at times even insurmountable.

But if there is anywhere in the world that can figure out the best way to confront them, and emerge, fairer, stronger and more united, it is Ontario.

It is all of us here, all of us together.

Thank you. Merci. Meegwetch.

La plus grande force de l’Ontario

L’histoire de l’Ontario est essentiellement celle de ses habitants. Depuis celle des nations autochtones qui ont été les premières ici; jusqu’à celle des colons français et anglais qui sont débarqués ici à la recherche de grands espaces; et des générations de nouveaux arrivants du monde entier qui nous sont parvenus, parfois avec grande difficulté, assoiffés de liberté et de nouvelles possibilités d’avenir.

Les gens d’ici forment l’acquis le plus précieux de l’Ontario.

Cela ne s’est jamais démenti.

Grâce à leur talent, à leurs habiletés, à leur clairvoyance et à leur compassion, ils ont fait de notre province le chez-nous dont nous sommes si fiers.

Inspirés par notre passé, nous continuons à viser toujours plus haut.

En unissant nos forces autour d’un objectif commun, nous sommes destinés à aller encore plus loin.

Cet état d’esprit et ce souci du mieux-être d’autrui, nous les voyons à l’œuvre tous les jours dans nos collectivités.

Nous les avons vus dans la mobilisation populaire à la suite d’inondations sans précédent survenues à Ottawa, puis encore à Brantford et dans le Sud-Ouest de l’Ontario, où les gens se sont empressés à remplir des sacs de sable pour protéger les maisons de leurs voisins.

Nous les avons vus dans les yeux des bénévoles aux Jeux Invictus l’automne dernier. Le cœur sur la main, vous êtes venus en grand nombre soutenir et célébrer le rétablissement des militaires blessés de l’Ontario, du Canada et de partout dans le monde.

Et nous les avons vus dans l’accueil que nous avons réservé à plus de 22 000 réfugiés syriens dans nos villes et villages des quatre coins de la province. De Windsor à Cornwall en passant par Thunder Bay, nous leur avons ouvert les bras pour qu’ils se sentent rassurés dans leur nouveau pays, leur nouvel emploi et leur nouvelle école.

Chaque fois que le besoin se fait sentir, nous nous rassemblons et travaillons ensemble...

...pour protéger nos familles, nos voisins et notre province.

Nous sommes fort capables de voir non seulement les arbres, mais toute la forêt.

Lorsque l’Ontario est devenu membre de l’Organisation internationale de la Francophonie, nous nous sommes engagés à faire progresser l’éducation, l’équité entre les sexes et le développement durable dans toute la Francophonie.

L’Ontario est un endroit bien spécial, mais force nous est de reconnaître que notre province fait face à des enjeux.

Bien que notre économie soit relativement vigoureuse et en croissance, que le taux de chômage soit à son plus bas depuis près de 20 ans et que les taux de diplomation des élèves du secondaire soient plus élevés que jamais...
...la vie devient plus difficile pour nombre de nos amis et voisins.

Notre monde change de façons que nous n’avons encore jamais vues et à un rythme étourdissant.
Pendant que le coût de la vie augmente, il devient de plus en plus difficile de trouver des emplois stables et à long terme qui offrent un salaire décent.
Les emplois à temps partiel et précaires sont de plus en plus courants.
Ces pressions grandissantes atteignent les familles là où cela revêt le plus d’importance.
Les gens ont du mal à assurer leur mieux-être et celui de leurs proches.

Le moment de miser sur le mieux-être

Le gouvernement est saisi tous les jours de cas de personnes qui portent un lourd fardeau.
Elles racontent leur histoire au téléphone, par écrit ou de vive voix à l’occasion d’assemblées publiques.
L’économie en évolution d’aujourd’hui et les incertitudes de l’avenir sont de dures réalités qui perturbent leur vie et mettent à mal leurs rêves.
À Peterborough, un travailleur qui a gagné le salaire minimum pendant la plus grande partie de sa vie a écrit qu’il voulait que personne d’autre n’ait à choisir entre payer une facture ou faire l’épicerie, ou à ressentir la gêne et ce sentiment d’échec qui se manifestent quand il doit s’adresser à une banque alimentaire.
Une enseignante et mère de famille de Thunder Bay nous a parlé de sa fille aînée, qui a des besoins particuliers complexes. Sa famille réclame au gouvernement un meilleur accès aux services à l’enfance pour que sa fille puisse continuer à vivre près de la maison.
Un résident de Toronto a expliqué que sa famille dépend du revenu de sa femme, qui est préposée aux soins personnels, parce qu’il doit donner des soins à temps plein à la maison à sa mère qui est atteinte de la maladie d’Alzheimer à un stade avancé. Ils ont besoin d’aide.
Ce sont des histoires que l’on entend souvent.
Ce sont les réalités auxquelles font face un grand nombre de gens.

Au moment où d’autres régions du monde se demandent comment répondre à ces mêmes réalités, la réponse de l’Ontario est claire.
Nous en faisons plus.
Nous n’allons pas en régressant.
Nous prenons des mesures énergiques, guidés par notre engagement à veiller au mieux-être de chacun.
C’est là notre responsabilité.

Les fondements du mieux-être

Nous sommes entourés d’exampls de personnes qui prennent soin des autres. C’est un papa qui amène son enfant à l’école, la petite fille qui tient la main de sa maman dans le cabinet du médecin, la voix chantante de l’enseignante qui récite les lettres de l’alphabet à ses élèves, l’infirmière qui fait preuve de compassion pour un patient anxieux. Nous sommes des êtres de cœur et cela s’exprime dans tout ce que nous faisons.
Lorsque le gouvernement utilise ses ressources pour soutenir les personnes soignantes et faire en sorte qu’il devienne plus facile pour les personnes d’assurer leur mieux-être et celui des autres, il les habilite à faire ce qu’il leur serait difficile de faire sans aide : fournir les meilleurs soins possible à nos enfants, à nos aînés et aux personnes qui sont aux prises avec des maladies mentales et physiques.

Nous connaissons tous des personnes qui ont besoin de meilleurs soins.

Nous savons ce que le stress et l’anxiété peuvent causer à ces personnes et à leur famille.

Le gouvernement est là pour elles.

Nous refusons que certaines d’entre elles soient laissées pour compte et doivent s’en sortir seules.

Ce ne serait pas juste quand nous avons des moyens de nous entraider.

Au moment où l’évolution de l’économie exacerbe les disparités sociales, votre gouvernement a élaboré un plan axé sur le mieux-être et l’avenir.

Ce plan s’appuie sur les fondements solides qui ont été mis en place.

Quand vous avez élu votre gouvernement il y a quatre ans, vous lui avez donné le mandat d’améliorer la sécurité des travailleuses et travailleurs pour qu’ils puissent compter, une fois à la retraite, sur une source de revenus prévisible après une vie entière de dur labeur.

Votre gouvernement a lutté pour les Ontariennes et Ontariens qui travaillent fort et a obtenu une bonification du Régime de pensions du Canada (RPC).

Le RPC bonifié versera de meilleures prestations à des millions de retraités partout au pays, ce qui donnera aux travailleuses et travailleurs une meilleure sécurité et les soutiendra mieux.

En outre, le personnel soignant de formation professionnelle a été pendant trop longtemps sous-évalué en Ontario.

Ces personnes compétentes remplies d’abnégation et de compassion consacrent leur vie à prendre soin d’autrui.

Prodiguer des soins, c’est pour elles plus qu’un emploi. C’est une vocation.

Les préposées et préposés aux services de soutien à la personne et les éducatrices et éducateurs de la petite enfance fournissent des soins essentiels à nos enfants qui grandissent et à nos parents qui avancent en âge.

Ces personnes sont en majorité des femmes, bon nombre d’entre elles nouvellement arrivées au Canada, et les soins qu’elles fournissent sont essentiels.

Votre gouvernement a augmenté leur salaire.

Ces solutions ciblées font une différence significative dans un monde en évolution.

Mais il ne s’agissait là que de premiers pas.

Depuis le début de la dernière session de la présente Législature, un plus grand nombre de personnes bénéficient du soutien dont elles ont besoin pour prendre soin de leur famille.

Cela commence dès la naissance.

Aucun enfant ne devrait être privé des médicaments dont il a besoin. Ce souhait est devenu réalité.
Depuis le 1er janvier en Ontario, les médicaments d’ordonnance sont absolument gratuits pour tous les jeunes de moins de 25 ans.

Déjà, grâce à l’Assurance-santé Plus, plus d’un million d’enfants et de jeunes ontariens bénéficient de la couverture de leurs médicaments d’ordonnance, sans qu’il en coûte quoi que ce soit à leur famille.

Pour les jeunes familles, l’accès à des services de garde d’enfants revêt également une importance capitale.

Pour les mères en particulier, cela signifie qu’elles peuvent retourner au travail au moment qui leur convient.

Plus tôt ce mois-ci, lorsque nous avons célébré la Journée internationale des femmes, on nous a de nouveau rappelé qu’il y avait un long chemin à parcourir pour atteindre l’équité entre les sexes.

Ce n’est que lorsque nous éliminerons ces obstacles à la garde des enfants que nous y parviendrons.

Jusqu’à présent, votre gouvernement a posé les premiers gestes pour rendre les services de garde d’enfants plus accessibles.

Les frais des listes d’attente pour les services de garde d’enfants ont été éliminés et un plan visant à aider 100 000 autres familles à accéder à ces services est en cours.

Des subventions sont disponibles pour 60 % de toutes ces nouvelles places, car il est important qu’elles constituent un choix abordable pour les familles.

Lorsque les enfants de l’Ontario atteignent l’âge de quatre ans, ils ont maintenant accès à la maternelle à temps plein, qui offre une éducation de haute qualité aux enfants de quatre et cinq ans et permet aux familles de faire d’énormes économies.

Cependant, à mesure que grandissaient les Ontariens et les Ontariennes les plus jeunes et les plus brillants, un trop grand nombre d’entre eux se heurtaient à un mur après l’obtention de leur diplôme, incapables de réaliser leurs rêves en raison du coût trop élevé des études postsecondaires.

Le système d’éducation de l’Ontario compte parmi les meilleurs au monde.

Nous avons déjà 44 collèges et universités financés par les deniers publics.

Et nous allons de l’avant avec la création de la première université francophone en Ontario.

Il n’était pas juste que les étudiants aient du mal à s’offrir cette éducation supérieure.

À compter de cette année scolaire, les frais de scolarité des collèges et des universités sont devenus gratuits pour des centaines de milliers d’étudiants qui avaient du mal à les payer.

Les étudiants provenant de familles qui gagnent jusqu’à 90 000 $ sont admissibles aux frais de scolarité gratuits, tandis que ceux dont la famille gagne plus de 90 000 $ peuvent y être admissibles selon leur situation. Les étudiants provenant de familles qui gagnent jusqu’à 175 000 $ sont également admissibles à une aide généreuse.

Aujourd’hui, plus de 225 000 futurs diplômés, dont près de 13 500 mères célibataires, poursuivent leurs études pour obtenir un diplôme sans s’inquiéter des frais de scolarité.

Le nombre d’étudiants autochtones bénéficiaires du Régime d’aide financière aux étudiantes et étudiants de l’Ontario a augmenté de 34 %.

En Ontario, 1,1 million d’hommes et de femmes gagnent le salaire minimum.
Jusqu’à récemment, cela signifiait 11,40 $ l’heure. Cela n’était pas suffisant. Ce salaire ne fournissait pas aux travailleuses et travailleurs le soutien dont ils avaient besoin pour assurer leur mieux-être et celui de leur famille.

Votre gouvernement a fait passer le salaire minimum à 14 $ l’heure.

En janvier prochain, il augmentera de nouveau et passera à 15 $ l’heure.

Pour quelque 1,1 million de personnes, il s’agit d’une augmentation attendue depuis longtemps qui assurera un avenir plus sûr et plus prometteur à leur famille.

Enfin, les personnes âgées ont bâti cette province pour en faire ce qu’elle est aujourd’hui. Elles méritent les meilleurs soins possible pour pouvoir vivre chez elles ou dans leur collectivité aussi longtemps que possible.

Votre gouvernement s’est engagé à ajouter 5 000 nouveaux lits au cours des quatre prochaines années dans le cadre d’un plan décennal visant à créer plus de 30 000 nouveaux lits dans le secteur des soins de longue durée.

Une partie de ces nouveaux lits répondront à des besoins culturels précis, y compris ceux de la population autochtone.

D’ici 2022, les résidents des foyers de soins de longue durée auront également accès à 15 millions d’heures de soins supplémentaires offertes par du personnel infirmier, des préposés aux services de soutien à la personne et des travailleurs en soins thérapeutiques.

Cela aidera à assurer que les aînés reçoivent les soins dont ils ont besoin et contribuera à la tranquillité d’esprit de leurs proches.

Ces investissements auront des avantages durables.

Il en va de même pour les actions du gouvernement en matière de changement climatique.

C’est un combat que nous ne pouvons nous permettre de perdre, pour nos enfants et nos petits-enfants.

L’Ontario a éliminé l’électricité produite par du charbon. Cela a permis de rendre notre air plus pur et de réduire le nombre d’enfants atteints d’asthme.

Mais on ne peut aborder sérieusement la question de la réduction des émissions polluantes et de la lutte contre le changement climatique sans apposer un prix sur la pollution au carbone.

Nous nous sommes joints au Québec et à la Californie pour faire partie du plus grand marché du carbone en Amérique du Nord, car ce système nous aide à atteindre nos objectifs ambitieux en matière de changement climatique, au coût le plus bas pour les particuliers et les entreprises.

Chaque dollar ainsi recueilli contribue à rendre notre province plus verte grâce aux transports en commun et aux pistes cyclables, et aide les familles et les entreprises à réduire leurs factures d’énergie et à devenir plus éconergétiques.

La réduction de la pollution en Ontario s’est accompagnée de notre croissance économique.

Prises ensemble, toutes ces mesures ont contribué à établir une base solide pour assurer le mieux-être et des possibilités d’avenir aux Ontariennes et aux Ontariens.
Cependant, votre gouvernement reconnaît que cela ne suffit pas.

Le courage de miser sur le mieux-être

Les pressions auxquelles les familles font face en Ontario sont variées et elles s’accumulent. Cela a un impact réel sur leur vie et sur leur capacité à veiller au mieux-être de leurs proches. Le gouvernement ne peut pas rester indifférent.

Il y a encore beaucoup à faire.

C’est pourquoi, après avoir présenté un budget équilibré cette année, votre gouvernement a délibérément choisi de continuer à investir dans les soins et les services dont dépend la population de la province.

Par conséquent, le budget de 2018 affichera un déficit modeste de moins de 1 % de notre PIB et il nous indiquera le chemin à suivre pour atteindre un budget équilibré.

Les familles sont aujourd’hui dans une position difficile et, en faisant plus pour les aider à prendre en charge les coûts des soins et des services dont elles ont besoin, le gouvernement peut soulager la pression et l’inquiétude qu’elles ressentent.

C’est la bonne chose à faire pour assurer à toutes et à tous un avenir plus juste.

Les investissements soutenant le mieux-être de chacun et des possibilités d’avenir permettront aux gens de mieux prendre soin de leurs proches et de progresser dans tous les aspects de leur vie.

Lorsque nous prenons soin les uns des autres, nous pouvons changer des vies.

Alors, le gouvernement fait ce qu’il peut, en investissant dans les gens qui font la force de notre province.

Comme vous le constaterez, le budget de 2018 prévoit des investissements importants dans les services dont vous avez besoin : les soins de santé, à domicile, de santé mentale et de lutte contre la toxicomanie ainsi que les services de garde d’enfants.

Premièrement, votre gouvernement fera des investissements importants dans le fonctionnement de nos hôpitaux.

Ces investissements permettront de réduire les temps d’attente que les gens subissent lorsqu’ils ont besoin de soins.

Il y aura des investissements importants dans les soins à domicile, pour fournir plus de services aux personnes âgées à la maison et pour alléger le fardeau financier pesant sur les familles qui s’occupent d’êtres chers vieillissants.

Le prochain budget accordera également la priorité au besoin croissant de services de santé mentale et de lutte contre la toxicomanie en Ontario...

...élargissant ainsi l’accès aux services de santé mentale et aidant les gens à obtenir le soutien dont ils ont besoin dans nos écoles et nos collectivités.

Le budget se concentrera également sur les coûts des services de garde d’enfants, qui constituent depuis longtemps l’obstacle principal pour de nombreuses familles en croissance.

En même temps, les programmes gouvernementaux qui vous facilitent déjà la tâche de prendre soin de vos proches et de les aider à réussir seront élargis.

L’Assurance-santé Plus, le programme d’assurance-médicaments qui fournit des médicaments gratuits aux enfants et aux jeunes, sera étendue à d’autres parties de la population.
Un plus grand nombre de personnes qui ne bénéficient pas d’un régime de médicaments et de soins dentaires auront accès à des médicaments d’ordonnance et à des soins dentaires plus abordables.

Et le programme de frais de scolarité gratuits qui rend déjà les études postsecondaires plus abordables pour les personnes issues de milieux modestes sera bonifié.

Plus d’étudiantes et d’étudiants seront en mesure d’aller au collège et à l’université, sans payer de frais de scolarité.

Les familles de la classe moyenne n’auront pas à s’endetter lourdement pour offrir à leurs enfants les possibilités d’avenir que méritent tous les étudiants de l’Ontario.

De plus, des investissements seront faits pour former plus d’apprentis, y compris dans les nouveaux secteurs émergents.

Les possibilités d’avenir en Ontario vont augmenter.

Le fardeau de la pauvreté sera allégé.

Le budget de 2018 soulagera les pressions que les gens ressentent aujourd’hui.

Cela contribuera à remédier aux difficultés financières qui les empêchent de progresser.

Cet Ontario plus sain qui mise sur le mieux-être sera, sans aucun doute, un Ontario plus fort et plus prospère.

Les avantages de miser sur le mieux-être

Votre gouvernement s’est doté d’un plan axé sur le mieux-être et l’avenir. C’est la bonne solution pour la population et l’économie de l’Ontario, car leur prospérité respective est intrinsèquement liée.

Lorsque plus de gens ont accès aux médicaments d’ordonnance et aux services de santé mentale et de lutte contre la toxicomanie, ils sont mieux équipés pour participer pleinement à la vie de la collectivité.

Lorsque davantage de fils et de filles qui s’occupent de leurs parents âgés à la maison bénéficient d’un soutien professionnel et d’une aide financière, ils peuvent aller travailler tous les jours, avec plus d’énergie et de confiance — et épargner pour leur propre avenir.

Lorsque plus de parents ont accès à des services de garde d’enfants abordables, ils peuvent faire le choix de retourner au travail.

Lorsque plus d’étudiants peuvent accéder à l’éducation supérieure, ils sont capables de repousser les frontières de nos connaissances et de développer de nouvelles façons de faire dans les domaines de la médecine, de la technologie et de la construction.

Notre potentiel en Ontario est illimité, mais il n’est pas assuré.

Notre potentiel doit être soutenu et encouragé.

Avec de nouveaux investissements, d’un côté dans les services de soins de santé, à domicile, de santé mentale et de lutte contre la toxicomanie, et de garde d’enfants, et de l’autre dans l’apprentissage de nos enfants, de l’âge préscolaire au niveau postsecondaire, nous maximiserons ce potentiel.

Nous sommes à l’ère de l’hypermondialisation. L’Ontario doit se battre pour de bons emplois et la croissance.

Et pour remporter cette lutte, il est essentiel que les gens de l’Ontario aient les moyens d’exceller.

Les gens sont incontestablement notre ressource numéro un.

Nos gens sont les innovateurs à l’origine de développements de pointe dans les secteurs de l’agroalimentaire et de l’exploitation minière et forestière.

Ils sont les garants de l’avenir du secteur manufacturier, et des chefs de file dans le domaine des services financiers.

Nos gens sont la raison pour laquelle les entreprises se tournent vers l’Ontario lorsqu’elles se développent et prennent de l’expansion.

C’est pour cela que votre gouvernement continuera de défendre l’Ontario à l’étranger — en militant pour nos entreprises et nos travailleurs, notamment les travailleurs de l’automobile, nos métallurgistes et nos travailleurs agricoles, en poursuivant notre stratégie d’échanges renforcés avec les États-Unis et en établissant des partenariats avec des entreprises nationales et étrangères.

Reconnaissant que certaines régions de la province ont des difficultés et des défis particuliers à relever pour atteindre la croissance économique en cette période de transition, le budget apportera du soutien aux investissements régionaux et aux fonds de création d’emplois.

Partout en Ontario, les investissements sans précédent de votre gouvernement dans l’infrastructure se poursuivront.

Lorsque nous construisons de nouvelles routes et de nouveaux ponts, de nouveaux réseaux de transport en commun, de nouveaux hôpitaux et de nouvelles écoles, ces projets génèrent des avantages et des possibilités pour les travailleurs et l’ensemble de l’économie.

Grâce à toutes ces mesures, et malgré l’incertitude commerciale et le caractère perturbateur de changements technologiques rapides, l’économie de l’Ontario continuera de croître et de prospérer.

Cette croissance économique donnera ensuite au gouvernement les moyens de mieux soutenir le mieux-être et des possibilités d’avenir pour toutes et tous.

Le budget de 2018 fait état de ce cycle complet et le mettra à profit.

Avec les résultats de ces investissements, le budget présentera une voie claire à suivre vers un retour à l’équilibre — sans faire de réductions ni sacrifier les services qui sont le fondement essentiel d’un Ontario plus juste et meilleur.

Édifier un lieu équitable qui offre le mieux-être et des possibilités d’avenir

Depuis que votre gouvernement a été élu en 2014, les réalisations de l’Ontario nous ont permis de le faire reconnaître comme un lieu équitable qui offre le mieux-être et des possibilités d’avenir.

Inspiri par les gens qui, chaque jour, prennent soin de leur famille, sont actifs dans leur collectivité et font de notre province l’endroit juste et prospère où nous nous sentons chez nous, votre gouvernement a choisi d’en faire plus.

Grâce à des idées audacieuses et à un plan équilibré, l’Ontario aide le Canada à aller de l’avant.

Un Régime de pensions du Canada amélioré, le régime d’assurance-médicaments pour les enfants et les jeunes, des frais de scolarité postsecondaire gratuits, l’équité au travail et notre marché commun du carbone sont des réalisations importantes.
Elles offrent chaque jour de nouvelles possibilités d’avenir et la sécurité dont toutes et tous ont grand besoin dans un contexte de bouleversements grandissants.

Mais, dans notre province, nous visons toujours plus haut.

Nous continuerons de montrer la voie à suivre en matière de changement climatique.

Nous n’allons pas laisser à la prochaine génération le fardeau de cet urgent problème.

Nous allons nous rassembler et en faire plus les uns pour les autres.

Les défis auxquels nous sommes confrontés aujourd’hui peuvent sembler décourageants, voire insurmontables.

Mais s’il y a un endroit au monde où les gens ont les moyens de trouver la meilleure façon de les relever et d’édifier un lieu plus juste, plus fort et plus uni, c’est bien l’Ontario.

Pour nous tous, ici, c’est le moment de miser sur le mieux-être et des possibilités d’avenir.

Whereas one-third of working people have no dental coverage, and this gap is even larger for people who are freelancers, contractors, artists and in the gig economy;
Whereas two-thirds of retirees have no dental coverage, and people receiving Ontario Works have no standard dental coverage;
Whereas the Liberal government has left over 2 million people without coverage for prescription medications; and
Whereas every three minutes in Ontario, someone goes to an emergency room or doctor’s office for a dental problem, and nearly a quarter of people reported they or someone in their household didn’t take their medication because of costs;
Therefore the Legislative Assembly calls on the government to ensure all Ontarians, regardless of age, income, source of income, or where they live, can access dental care and drug coverage.
