EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Bill amends section 85 of the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Act, 1997 to restrict the purposes for which the Minister may pay money out of the separate account in the Consolidated Revenue Fund that consists of money that the Crown receives under the Act. Specifically it removes payments that are to be used for a matter related to the activities of people as they interact with or affect wildlife or fish populations.

It also requires the Minister to establish an advisory committee to advise on the operation of the separate account and a procedure for receiving complaints from members of the public about decisions that the Minister makes regarding payments made out of the separate account.
