EXPLANATORY NOTE

SCHEDULE 1 EMPLOYMENT STANDARDS ACT, 2000

The Schedule adds section 13.1 to the Employment Standards Act, 2000 to prohibit employers from requiring employees to pay for uniforms or other prescribed items, or for their repair or laundering, except in limited circumstances such as loss, damage beyond normal wear and tear or failure to return items as agreed. Amounts improperly charged are enforceable as wages owing. Transitional rules address conflicts with existing collective agreements.

The Schedule also adds section 96.1, allowing the Director to assign certain complaints for inspection and to refuse to assign certain complaints for investigation or inspection in specified circumstances.

Section 128 is amended to replace the rules for apportioning money collected in enforcement matters, requiring that employees be paid first and that any remaining amounts be divided proportionally among the collector, the Director and the Minister of Finance.

SCHEDULE 2 ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT ACT

The Schedule amends the Environmental Assessment Act. Some highlights include:

1. Section 15 of the Act is re-enacted to authorize the prescribing of approved class environmental assessments and to provide that sections 15.1 to 17 apply to undertakings to which a prescribed approved class environmental assessment applies.
2. Amendments to section 17.2 provide that, where a Part II.3 project has more than one proponent, an application for approval by any one proponent is sufficient, and corresponding transition rules are added.
3. Sections 17.11 to 17.13 are repealed to remove the requirement for a ministry review of environmental assessments and the ability for any person to request that an application be referred to the Tribunal.
4. Section 17.15 is amended to remove the requirement for Lieutenant Governor in Council approval of a Minister's decision. New section 17.15.1 is added to authorize the Minister to refer the approval decision to the Lieutenant Governor in Council.
5. Amendments to section 17.29 provide that, for Part II.4 projects with multiple proponents, compliance by one proponent with prescribed requirements for commencement is sufficient.
6. Various consequential, transitional and regulation-making amendments are made throughout the Act.

SCHEDULE 3 LABOUR RELATIONS ACT, 1995

The Schedule amends certain timelines set out in the Labour Relations Act, 1995 relating to the construction industry. Currently, the Act provides for two-month timelines in which another trade union may apply to the Board for certification as bargaining agent for employees to whom a collective agreement applies, and two-month timelines for applying for a declaration that a trade union no longer represents the employees in a bargaining unit. The Schedule amends the Act to provide for one-month timelines instead.

SCHEDULE 4 MINISTRY OF HEALTH AND LONG-TERM CARE ACT

The Schedule amends section 12 of the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care Act to add the authority to make regulations governing the admission of graduates of a medical school outside of Canada to an Ontario medical residency program, including prescribing processes to prioritize the admission of graduates who have a connection to Ontario, specifying when a graduate has a connection to Ontario and defining "medical school outside of Canada" and "Ontario medical residency program".

SCHEDULE 5 OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY ACT

The Schedule amends the Occupational Health and Safety Act to permit the Chief Prevention Officer to collect personal information about workers' exposure to a physical, chemical or biological agent for the purpose of maintaining a worker occupational exposure registry and other purposes.

The Act is amended to provide that, in certain circumstances, the Minister may recognize standards for training, personal protective equipment and other equipment that comply with requirements in another Canadian jurisdiction or the requirements under an agreement between Ontario and another Canadian jurisdiction.

The Minister is authorized to reimburse such employers and constructors as may be prescribed for the cost of purchasing such protective headwear as may be prescribed.

Related and consequential amendments are made.

SCHEDULE 6 OMBUDSMAN ACT

Subsection 2 (3) of the Ombudsman Act is re-enacted to provide that an order by the Assembly to appoint the Ombudsman can be made only if two conditions are met, the first being that the person to be appointed is proficient in English and French and the second being that the person has been selected by unanimous agreement of a panel composed of one member of the Assembly from each recognized party and chaired by the Speaker who is a non-voting member, unless decided otherwise by unanimous consent of the Assembly.

SCHEDULE 7 RETIREMENT HOMES ACT, 2010

The Schedule amends the Retirement Homes Act, 2010.

Currently, section 12 of the Act provides that the Lieutenant Governor in Council has authority to appoint directors to the board of the Retirement Homes Regulatory Authority. Amendments are made to this section to transfer the authority to appoint directors to the Minister. Further amendments are made to this section to require the Minister to set out the term of any such appointment in the appointment itself and to provide that a director appointed to the board by the Minister holds office at the pleasure of the Minister.

Currently, section 75 of the Act requires suspicions of the occurrence of certain incidents involving residents of a retirement home be reported to the Registrar if they are based on reasonable grounds. Subsection 75 (3) of the Act provides that certain categories of persons, such as legally qualified medical practitioners, are required to report such suspicions even if information that would need to be reported is confidential or privileged. The subsection is amended to remove reference to a category of healthcare practitioners under the now repealed Drugless Practitioners Act and to enable regulations to be made to prescribe additional categories of persons for the purposes of the subsection.

SCHEDULE 8 STRENGTHENING TALENT AGENCY REGULATION ACT, 2026

The Schedule enacts the Strengthening Talent Agency Regulation Act, 2026.

The Act defines key terms, sets out its application and confirms that rights under the Act cannot be waived. It provides that related or associated businesses may be treated as a single talent agency.

The Act prohibits talent agencies from charging fees to entertainment workers, except for prescribed commissions and any other prescribed fees. It limits the amount of commission that may be charged and requires talent agencies to provide written statements to entertainment workers and retain related records. The Act also sets out rules for handling compensation received on behalf of entertainment workers, including requirements to deposit funds in a dedicated account and to remit payments to workers within specified timelines.

The Act assigns responsibility for administration to the Minister and provides for the appointment of a Director of Talent Agencies and compliance officers. It sets out their powers, including the authority to conduct inspections and investigations, enter business locations (with limits for dwellings), require records, question individuals and issue orders to address contraventions.

The Act establishes complaint procedures, including criteria for accepting or refusing complaints, the power to require meetings or evidence from parties, and the ability to make orders requiring repayment of fees or payment of monies owed. It sets out directors' liability, time limits for issuing orders and rules for circumstances where affected workers cannot be located. The Act also provides authority for the Director to seek injunctions and issue notices of contraventions.

The Act includes processes for reviewing orders and notices of contravention before the Ontario Labour Relations Board, including rules respecting hearings, procedures, the Board's powers on review and the role of labour relations officers in facilitating settlements. It also addresses the handling of monies paid into trust pending review.

The Act authorizes collection activities, including the appointment of collectors and the addition of administrative costs and certain collector fees to amounts owing. It contains offence provisions and establishes penalties for contraventions by individuals and corporations, including enhanced penalties for repeat corporate offenders. Additional orders may be imposed on conviction to require payment of amounts owing to entertainment workers.

The Act includes evidentiary, confidentiality and service of documents provisions to support enforcement and administrative processes. It also authorizes the Lieutenant Governor in Council to make regulations governing matters such as exemptions, notices of contraventions, collections and definitions.

SCHEDULE 9 WORKPLACE SAFETY AND INSURANCE ACT, 1997

The Schedule amends the Workplace Safety and Insurance Act, 1997. Some of the amendments allow the Workplace Safety and Insurance Board to pay benefits to a worker after the worker reaches the age of 65. The new subsection 43 (1.1) allows certain workers to request that the Board determine whether the worker is likely to be working in suitable and available employment or business past 65 years of age and, if so, the day on which the worker is likely to cease this work. The new subsection 43 (1.2) similarly allows certain workers that were 63 years of age or older on the date of injury to request that the Board determine whether the worker is likely to be working in suitable and available employment or business past the day that is two years after the date of the injury and, if so, the day on which the worker is likely to cease this work. Clauses 43 (1) (b) and (c) are repealed and replaced so that if the Board determines a day with respect to a worker under the new subsections 43 (1.1) and (1.2), the worker is entitled to payments under section 43 until the earlier of when their loss of earnings ceases and that day. Consequential amendments are made to other sections that reference payment of benefits until 65 years of age.

Other amendments to section 43 of the Act prospectively increase the loss of earnings benefit rate from 85 per cent to 90 per cent of the difference between the worker's pre-injury net average earnings and post-injury net average earnings. Similar amendments are made with respect to survivor's benefits under section 48 of the Act. Consequential amendments are made to section 45 of the Act, which governs payments for loss of retirement income.

Currently, section 44 of the Act provides that the Board may not review payments to a worker for loss of earnings more than 72 months after the date of the worker's injury. That section is amended to apply to workers whose date of injury is more than 72 months before the amendment comes into force. The new section 44.1 applies to workers whose date of injury is 72 months before the amendment comes into force or later and allows the Board to review payments at any time after the amendment comes into force in accordance with the prescribed maximum frequency, if any, or with such frequency as it determines is appropriate. The Board may also review payments if a material change in circumstances occurs.

Part I of Schedule 1 of Ontario Regulation 175/98 made under the Act sets out classes of industries in which employers are subject to the insurance plan. The new section 74.1 provides that residential care facilities operated by a private employer and group homes are deemed to be included in that Part.
