The Speaker addressed the House:-

On two occasions early in this 42nd Provincial Parliament, during the special summer sitting, I addressed the House on the subject of how the eight Independent Members would be included in our daily proceedings and debates.

In doing so, I explained to the House that I was prepared to exercise my discretion under the Standing Orders and accordingly, Independent Members would be given reasonable opportunities to participate in this House, in accordance with and in proportion to, the opportunities all other Members have to place a question and speak in debate.

We did mathematical calculations, carefully and thoroughly. We determined that the eight Independent Members should each be given the opportunity to ask a question once every eight sitting days, which effectively meant we would anticipate one Independent Member's question each day.

This approach also provided the House the advantage of some degree of predictability and certainty, which reduced confusion and allowed all of us, on both sides of the House, to plan and prepare.

Again, at the outset of this Parliament: eight Independent Members, eight questions, over eight days.

However, with the passage of time in this Parliament, the number of Independent Members has grown from eight to eleven.

We have once again done the math, again seeking to ensure that Independent Members should have the chance to participate in the House in accordance with and in proportion to, the opportunities all other Members have.

Le Président s'adresse à la Chambre :-

In order to fairly accommodate the eleven Independent Members, I am prepared to allow one Independent member question every day, with a second question every Tuesday, as well as starting today, a second question every alternate Wednesday. This approach will result in eleven opportunities for Independent Members questions over eight sitting days.

I recently received a written request from the Member for Ottawa Vanier (M<sup>me</sup> Des Rosiers), asking that I allow the Independent Members to manage the order of their questions, forgoing the requirement to seek the consent of the House to permit one Independent Member to ask an additional question in place of another Member.

To accede to this request could have the effect of permitting one or more Independent Members to have a disproportionately high number of opportunities to ask questions, compared to every other Member of the House. I would add that while Standing Order 38(a) confers upon the Speaker the discretion to allow Independent Members to participate in Question Period, there is no Standing Order which gives the Speaker the authority to grant the rights of a recognized party upon a group of Members which are not a recognized party. For these reasons, I am not able to consent to this request.

I should add that when a similar situation such as exists today occurred in this House in 1999 and again in 2003, it was addressed by way of a motion adopted by the House in one case, and the achievement of recognized party status following a by-election in the other.

Another request from the Member for Ottawa Vanier suggests that I should allow the seven Independent Members, which in the past I have recognized as the Liberal group, the ability to split the 20-minute speaking times allotted to them in debates. In a previous statement, I noted that the 20-minute speaking time could only be used by a single one of the seven Liberal Members since the ability to split speaking time is prescribed by the Standing Orders and outside the Speaker's discretion.

However, in asking I revisit this decision, the Member for Ottawa Vanier argued that ability to split time as referenced in Standing Order 24(d) is not limited to "recognized parties," but simply to Members of a party. Given the fact that I permitted the Liberal Members to pool their individual speaking times into one larger allotment, based on their affiliated status, and consistent with the solution that Speaker Curling granted in a similar situation in his ruling of November 27, 2003, I am prepared to agree to this request. Going forward, Members of the Liberal Caucus may therefore divide their speaking times during debates covered by Standing Order 24 with another Member or Members of the Liberal group.

I want to thank the Member for Ottawa Vanier for her submission, and thank the House for your attention to my remarks this morning.
